

Needs Assessment Strategy

Instructions

Your library will be developing a new strategic plan over the coming year. Your supervisor asks for your help in creating a plan to assess community needs.

At your table, form a group of three or four. As a team, review your case study and consider your options for assessing community needs. Design your approach and identify the methods you would use to collect data. Be sure to identify target audiences if you plan to collect new data.

Plan for needs assessment

